

A HiTouch Company. Called This For a Reason. Experience Why.SM

Dear Valued Economy Stationers Customer,

We have some very exciting and important news for our family of customers!

Economy Stationers has merged with MyOfficeProducts! As you know, my team and I have been serving the Florida market for 45 years. You can rest assured that our high levels of service will be enhanced as we combine our resources with one of the largest office products dealers in the United States. Most importantly, our customers will see no changes in our current staff starting with myself, and continuing onto Ronnie, Theresa and our driver Paul. We are all staying and have extended employment agreements with our new partner. This will certainly allow me to spend more time in the field servicing our customers, and allow the day-to-day components of operations, accounting and so on to be handled by our new partner.

I am personally pleased about this because Economy Stationers and MyOfficeProducts, (a Hi-Touch company), are first and foremost committed to exceeding the expectations of our customers. We will accomplish this by providing quality products, exceptional service, state-of-the-art technology, and the best value for you as our customer. Our product offering will continue to include office supplies, office furniture but will now also offer contract design, space planning, janitorial products, promotional products, printing and more. You can view a short informational video on our new partner here: www.hitouchservices.com/videos

You will see impressive enhancements to our web ordering portal via www.myofficeproducts.com, enhanced and streamlined invoicing processes, a rewards program for online ordering, and access to a wide breadth of other office related services that we previously could not offer. Further, as MyOfficeProducts is the 5th largest office supplier in the US, we will be able to offer the same if not better prices in most cases as their purchasing power is much greater than ours as a stand-alone dealer.

Economy Stationers will continue to be a leader in the office products industry in West Central Florida, giving back to the community and providing even greater levels of service. We're excited about our future and what it means for us and for you, our family of customers. Our goal is to go live with our new offering during the first week of July. We will be in touch with you shortly to provide updated access to the web ordering system and more.

Please feel free to contact me personally with any questions you may have. As we've always stated, we look forward to "Earning Your Business Every Day".

Thank you for your continued business.

Sincerely,
Mike Zoller
President
